Global Opinion Survey on Japan's Energy Policy Options

Please tell us what you think!

https://www.tfaforms.com/251924

A discussion on the nation's direction on energy policy up until 2030 is now unfolding all around Japan. What kind of energy Japan uses and whether it abandons or keeps its nuclear power plants are issues that affect not only the Japanese, but the rest of the world and the generations to come.

The government is presently gathering opinions from citizens on energy options through a website, email, fax and other media during a period of public comment set to end on August 12th. In view of this effort, JFS hopes to gather opinions from people around the world and communicate the results to the Japanese government, media, and through other channels. Thus we would like to conduct an international opinion poll on "Japan's energy policy." Please take a few minutes to answer the three questions below for Japan's sake.

Please read the background information on the present domestic discussion and energy options and let us know what you think. We look forward eagerly to your reply!
